HON. H. STEVENS LAUNCHES NEW POLITICAL PARTY

New Party Receiving Support; Manifesto To Be Released To Press On Friday, July 12th

OTTAWA, July 8.—In his little office on Parliament Hill, with a statue of Mercury on his desk and a picture of the Peace River country on the head beside it, Hon. H. Stevens on Sunday struck a sudden swift blow for political power.

For the second time this week he was packing to go to the Peace River country.

On Saturday the two days promised, the Prime Minister was packing to go to St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N.B.

Hon. W. L. Macklin, Minister of Railways, was in Ottawa, and where in the Gatineau Hills, J. S. Woodsworth was residing at Muskoka Beach. Post-national bulldogs had called the time.

But Mr. Stevens did not want a holiday.

His decision was made during the week-end after a conference with a provisional executive of the organization, composed of W. Warren Cook, Toronto, and L. L. Loring, Ottawa, and Thomas V. Bell, Montreal—three prominent and moderate-sized business men.

The delegation had come to Ottawa from the meeting at Hamilton on Friday of representatives from the different provinces representing the great mass of people in Canada, Mr. Stevens said.

"On Saturday," Mr. Stevens said, "a delegation of thousands of citizens resident in all parts of Canada, waited upon me and presented a petition asking for a national party, a party having for its object a reconstruction and reform program similar to that which I have been advocating during the past 18 months. Local Stock Buyer Reports Costly Trip To Edmonton

W. E. Rathwell, stock buyer, who shipped on several cars of live stock on the last stock train and who arrived home early Saturday morning from last week, reports a hard and costly trip. He had to pay $100 to get to Slave Lake it was found necessary to back the stock train to McLean, where it was held for two nights, and one of the cars of the stock, Mr. Rathwell said, were unloaded and fed, adding, "Another picture will be 'Sweet Potato Kid'."

Following the shows there will be a dance at which Bob Funnell's orchestra will supply the music.

Mr. Rathwell further stated that he would not buy any more stock for shipment until the railway was repaired.

Yesterdays bill was $800.

Asked about the crops along the way, Mr. Rathwell, who came home via the north route, replied he had not motorized across to Rycroft, where he took the freight, replied that those around Edmonton were not very good, but on the south route, from the Peace River to the Spirit River and Rycroft districts the growth seemed to be very satisfactory.

Lands Mail Ahead Time "Spite of Hell And High Water"

With a reputation of having never missed a mail since he was awarded the mail contract from Grande Prairie to the Peace Lake post office, D. Phelps landed the mail in Grande Prairie half an hour ahead of time on Friday.

In the language of Phelps, it was a case of getting there "in spite of hell and high water."

Kept in condition of the Smoky caused by the recent rains, which put the ferry out of service, Phelps loaded a boat, which was equipped with a 24-horsepower motor, onto his truck. The boat is owned by D. Wymen of the Sokesmith district, who was camping at the river, and who accompanied the mail carrier.

The passengers were taken across the river first and in the meantime the mail carrier, who had difficulty in getting across, was assisted, but by skillful handling of the boat the trips were made in safety.

The party copped for the night at Moody's, and in the morning were taken to Grande Prairie by Ferrel Phelps, who arrived with a truck.

STEVENS GETTING SUPPORT

Stevens, pledging support of his new political movement and claiming that the men they represent are the ones he represents. Mr. Stevens declared today at his second conference with parliamentary correspondents.

For the second time this week promised, the Prime Minister was packing to go to St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N.B. Hon. W. L. Macklin, Minister of Railways, was in Ottawa, and where in the Gatineau Hills, J. S. Woodsworth was residing at Muskoka Beach. Post-national bulldogs had called the time.

THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1935

THE PROPOSED HIGHWAY TO WHITECOURT

For several years the Grande Prairie Board of Trade and other organizations have been pressing for the construction of a highway between Sturgeon Lake and Whitecourt, for the reason that it would shorten the route to Edmonton and could be built on high land.

On July 3 a wire was sent to Ottawa by Mr. H. H. Miller, President of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Peace River, urging upon the federal government to apply for a highway from Sturgeon Lake to Whitecourt, in view of the flood condition which has existed along Sturgeon Lake for the last two years. The wire also pointed out that construction of such a highway would help relieve the unemployment situation.

That the highway along Slave Lake is in the wrong place has long been the opinion of the majority of people who have gone into the question of transportation facilities from the north country.

While it is true the flood condition which now exists along Slave Lake has not occurred again, it is nevertheless liable to happen any time during spring and summer and there is no reason why traffic again be completely tied up.

At present over 60,000 people are at work and have been cut off for a considerable time from the outside where much of their supplies come from. Already there is the beginning of a shortage in many lines. In view of the existing conditions to have the lives of 60,000 people at the mercy of the present uncertain operation of high water levels.

Even under what are considered normal conditions there are times in the summer when the highway along Lesser Slave Lake is almost closed.

We are not advocating abolition of this highway, but what we do say is that the Peace River should no longer have to rely on one outlet, especially one uncertain as is the present and only highway.

This whole question of transportation will have to be tackled sooner or later, which is the truth.

The north country has enough handicaps without being constantly in danger of being isolated from the rest of the world.

Due to the conditions of its roads and highway in wet weather, the Peace River is one of the most expensive and difficult routes to do business in. If anyone doubts this statement let him ask any traveler who covers that country regularly or anyone who has been to the north states, considerable motor-car travel here.

At present—without either highway or rail—this portion of the Peace River is depending on two telegraph lines for connection with the outside. If anything should happen to these lines the north country would be cut off entirely from the outside.

The Peace River is an empire in itself and depends on proper transportation for its further development. Millions of dollars are being paid out for relief, who fails to utilize this money in a proper manner for the north country? The unemployed would be far better off working than on relief.

The north country is a large one, with many natural resources and a chance. The transportation problem here should be tackled in a big way and not by piecemeal methods.

A CODFISH DINNER

On Tuesday afternoon I was invited to a fish dinner at the Palace Cafe, Grande Prairie, by Mr. E. B. Harris, who leaves the trails of the Peace River selling the products of Burns Company.

He informed me that one of the chief items on the bill of fare would be salt codfish. As I asked him to my mind to hold on to my mind he kindly invitation and concluded that the fish was to dominate the menu.

However, I found that those invited were representative of the various trades of the Dominion.

The following were present besides the host: P. V. Cruden, Don Minchen, Thomson, A. H. McQuarrie, George McLean, G. K. Kelly, Rydelman, E. C. Stump, George Vary, and the writer.

After the latter's toast to the toastmaster do not commence until the good things are served, the dinner was over.

Short speeches were made.

Mr. Murphy expressed the pleasure he had in being host at a gathering at which good fellowship was the dominant note.

Minchen observed that while he had been in Prince Edward Island when the same fish was the prime dish of the meal he had been there.

Mr. McQuarrie said that the wonder of the dinner was the experience he had in Prince Edward Island when the same day fish was the prime dish of the meal he had been there.

Kelly quipped in his usual manner that he had the last word in car construction.

Surprisingly before I knew it the car was turned into a driveway leading to the hotel. I turned back with a smile a section of land about a mile and a half directly north of the Experimental Sub-Station.

The Hote Farm

The Hote farm is on an eastern side of the valley of the Beaver Lodge Valley and mountains in the distance—absolutely satisfied and was at peace with the world.

Mr. Vast and E. C. Stump thanked the host for the wonderful spread.

Mr. Thomson, after telling of an experience which he had in the Maritimes, said that he was glad to see the gathering rounded out by representation from the Experimental Station of Bruce County, in which he had the honor to be born.

C. McMurphy said that he was too full for a speech and would not attempt to make a speech. He informed the chairman that the fish dinner which was to be had that evening was the kind of dinner which Croken, Murphy and himself—and all others—had been accustomed to. It is all good but not good enough.

The garden, which is well advanced containing every vegetable found in the garden, is a fine sight. It also much in evidence. This beautiful and prolific garden is supervised by Mrs. Bott, who takes a real pride in it.

A large frame barn is a feature of the farm. To anyone who likes chickens, this is a good place to buy them. There are some one hundred as fine White Leghorns as one could wish to buy. The hen house was built when the barn was built.

In discussing the chicken business, Mrs. Bott observed that the price of eggs had been high and that there was too low. She stated that they had just sold 22 dozen eggs which brought only 12 cents a dozen. This price was too low for the market.

Reporter: "What should eggs bring to make the poultry industry profitable?"

Mrs. Bott: "Twenty-five cents per dozen the year round." She then went on and explained that hens have laid a few eggs all the time which cost money for egg production.

I have learned by travelling "Along the River" that if one wants to get real reliable information on farm economics just talk to the women of the community. They know much about local economics but when it comes to understanding what is necessary to make a farm pay who has been created from the practical side of life.

On the farm is an ice house, a tool shed and other buildings to be found and a well kept up garden farm.

An inauspicious water supply was struck at six feet. A deep, heavy rain has caused the water to rise to the west of the buildings. A threshing outfit was also noted. Good type of grade short-horn cattle are raised by the local of the farms and land.

Lots of the farmers in this district have salt and lime treatments to prevent the land from blowing. Sun-marrowfallowing is bad, as it brings the weeds only that much faster to the surface.

From Brooks and father down crops were good, as far as Alberta goes. The crops in the Peace River area were mostly good. Business in Medicine Hat is also better than last year. The general business stations are quite busy. The unemployed, however, are still busy doing nothing.

The town of Seven Persons once had 1000 people but now has only 120. They are mostly in Medicine Hat where they are quite busy.

The new highway—Highway No. 3—cuts quite a few miles and now it is only 12 miles to Medicine Hat where they should be quite busy.

In this district wheat averages from 4 to 8 inches.

The wheat across the line is about the same as in Canada. I noticed that some things cost more there than in Canada. Around Shubenacadie, Nova Scotia, wheat cost more there than in Canada. The prairie is still green, but on the other side is turning yellow. However, the cattle seem to be fine.

In that part of the world there are quite a number of oil wells. Some are quite old and have been producing for a long time. It is to be had that these wells are so far from the Peace River country, for oil can be used in tractors practically free.

Farmer who has been using this oil (call it root oil) said that they do not use any other motor oil. So it is quite good.

Farmer who has been using those in Peoria, can see how cheaply they can farm here in southern Alberta and a little more for their work. But they still have not had a less average wage per acre.

Gardeners and hothouse men are now busy setting out cucumbers, etc. This report will give an outline of how things look down south.

Farmer who has been using those in Peoria, can see how cheaply they can farm here in southern Alberta and a little more for their work. But they still have not had a less average wage per acre.

Gardeners and hothouse men are now busy setting out cucumbers, etc. This report will give an outline of how things look down south.

MUST GET RID OF STRANGE HOLD

To the Editor of The Tribune.

With nearly one-fifth of our population on relief and unemployment increasing, with thousands of our people without work, it is a sad sight to see the government rations.

The following were present besides the host: P. V. Cruden, Don Minchen, Thomson, A. H. McQuarrie, George McLean, G. K. Kelly, Rydelman, E. C. Stump, George Vary, and the writer.

After the latter's toast to the toastmaster do not commence until the good things are served, the dinner was over.

Short speeches were made.

Mr. Murphy expressed the pleasure he had in being host at a gathering at which good fellowship was the dominant note.

Minchen observed that while he had been in Prince Edward Island when the same fish was the prime dish of the meal he had been there.

Mr. McQuarrie said that the wonder of the dinner was the experience he had in Prince Edward Island when the same day fish was the prime dish of the meal he had been there.

Kelly quipped in his usual manner that he had the last word in car construction.

Surprisingly before I knew it the car was turned into a driveway leading to the hotel. I turned back with a smile a section of land about a mile and a

and rambler of the mountains, told of how fish had saved his life when in the mountains. After the meal was over after the splendid feast he felt absolutely satisfied and was at peace with the world.

Mr. Vast and E. C. Stump thanked the host for the wonderful spread.

Mr. Thomson, after telling of an experience which he had in the Maritimes, said that he was glad to see the gathering rounded out by representation from the Experimental Station of Bruce County, in which he had the honor to be born.

C. McMurphy said that he was too full for a speech and would not attempt to make a speech. He informed the chairman that the fish dinner which was to be had that evening was the kind of dinner which Croken, Murphy and himself—and all others—had been accustomed to. It is all good but not good enough.

REPORT FROM THE SOUTH

To the Editor of The Tribune.

This is Sunday afternoon and I am reading the news. The rains are falling gently and all nature is abounding in beauty and strength. The universal laws are manifested upon us to strengthen and maintain them.

"How great is our domain when all things else are equal," wrote the poet. "We are born with a spirit of our own."

We—sociolists—are wondering if our state and ideals are evolving in the same way. What say the sociologists? How long is a piece of string? How far into the woods can a dog run etc? These are questions which are very accurately answered by us.

Today we learn of six or eight different kinds of life. The only difference between us and the dog is that we are not so well educated.

MAKESHIFT TRAIN A SIGHT

When at last the train did come on Saturday morning it took out several vacationists who had expected to leave on Tuesday night. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Davidson with Stanley and Connie; Mr. K. F. Argue, high school principal; Miss H. A. Dewart, of the Orange Lodge; Mr. and Mrs. school, and Miss Audrey Barker of Broucco Creek school.

It was decided to set the calendar to see if the train put out with passengers crowded into baggage car, caboose and antiquated first class cars alike. We wonder if the caboose passengers would be charged observation car rates.

SILVERWOOD

FIELDS AND GARDENS FLOODED

SILVERWOOD, July 2.—The last news you got from here the weather was on the good side but it has changed since. The rain started on Sunday morning and lasted till Tuesday morning—and, oh, what it did! The water level in the river was high and at the steel bridge at Mr. Vining's crossing it was four feet over the bridge and his potato patch has six feet of water in it. People along the river also have their fields all covered with water and people across the river are flooded out. The Burnt River is the highest that our reporter has seen it and has been here 10 years at that.

The crops are in a state of mud and crops are not advancing. It looks like if the tick early wheat will be in shambles on the short side.

CROPS IN GOOD SHAPE

The crops are in good shape and look the best for years. It is hoped the weather from now on will be its best. The sun will bring with lots of sunshine and heat.

NINETY-FIVE PER CENT PASSED

The school closed on Thursday, and by the report of the children, the school passed 95 per cent of pupils.

Miss Muriel Murray visited the district on Wednesday and took Miss Ivy Murray back to Heart Valley.

Mr. William Gordon and Mr. Sales were busy last week hauling grain to their elevators.

The folks were expecting to take in the folks at Bridgewater on Monday, July 1, but the rain held up all things around.

More news when the weather clears up for awhile and we can get about.

JUNE 24.—Everything is nice since the rain last night. We all have rain gear and the sun is shining, too. The crops are all up, but very slow this year. The flowers look all out in full bloom. I love the roses, they are such a lovely color and smell so sweet.

The little ducks and chickens and turkeys and geese are growing. Soon we will have turkeys from the market.

A Few Simple Tricks of the Eastern Fakirs

By The Gleeson

In 1920 a fakir named Dr. Tarah Bey visited London. His aim, a doctor of medicine, and the object of his visit was a demonstration of his magical powers.

He was able to stick pins in his flesh without inconvenience and without causing blood to flow.

He lay on a bed of nails with an iron nail in his chest.

After falling into a self-induced cataleptic trance, he was placed in a coffin and covered with sand. Twenty minutes later the lid was taken off the coffin and found it was a gross, none the worse for his burial.

Mr. Goldston, founder of the Magicians' Club in London, England, says that Dr. Tarah Bey, by pinching his own and other people's cheeks, by merely pinching the skin until it has become quite numb. He says it is easier to pinch a nail than a finger.

Practitioners of this art, he says, are few.

What are we to make of all this?

It is not enough to call such symptoms of religious fervor fanaticism that it enables these men to endure such self-tortures and pain.

Practitioners of this art, he says, are few.

What are we to make of all this?

What are we to make of all this?

It is essential, of course, that the pin be thoroughly clean. There will be little or no blood from the tiny puncture, but the fakir can withdraw through the hole.

It is not easy to lie on a bed of nails, but it is not impossible. A bed in which the nails are widely separated would be extremely painful to a white person, but the Indian fakir rolls up the toes of his feet in a leather boot.

The greatest fakir is he who rolls up his hands with white hot coals and then allow white hot coals and embers to be placed on his tongue.

There are no fakirs of this kind.

The Indian Jadoo-wallah is an itinerant conjurer around whom many legends have gathered.

He often includes in his restricted program an exhibition of fire-eating.

It is an old trick that a school boy could perform easily and without the least danger.

A short length of specially prepared string is used, which glows but does not burn. The fakir with a stick which brought Sea Scouts from all over England to Douglas House Meadows, Petersham, on the Thames. The camp included 1,000 boys, 100 A. V. Campbell, C.B., D.S.O., M.V.O., London Headquarters Commissioner for Sea Scouts.

DEATH HAS STRUCK ANOTHER CRUEL BLOW

A letter of condolence on the death of a loved one is always the most difficult of letters to write, but when the words are expressed through the medium of the press, the task is even more delicate. One must say enough to convey sincere and active sympathy, yet if this is too fulsome it becomes nauseating and gives an impression of gaudy ostentation.

Death has struck another cruel blow. Mrs. Herb, Mrs. Mrs. Herk, Mrs. Herk's brothers and all so well known all over the Peace River country that the news of Herk's sudden and tragic death will come as a great shock to many, and the sincere sympathy of the whole community is with those who are left to grieve over the loss of their dear friend.

But the O'Briens will hold up their chin, for they know what courage is.

"Courage is to grieve, to have the hurt, and make the world believe."

"You are not caring."

"Courage does not lie alone in dying for a cause—

"It is also in living."

"Courage is to feel the daily daggers of relentless steel

And keep on living."

PACIFIER?

It would be rather ridiculous to call the irritable, irritating and ready-to-fight person a "pacifier." The thing which is stuck into so many babies' mouths by such names as "pacifier," comfort," "soother," etc.

The so-called pacifier is really irritating. The child cries for it, just as he will cry for many other irritable things such as pacifiers, pacifiers. The baby is not bad, but someone else is. No child ever cries for his "pacifier" unless some one has so hit him in the mouth as to want him to have something in his mouth all the time.

It is a bad habit for many reasons. It is growing in popularity in Farm Women's Work, which is a branch of Agriculture, Vermilion. The idea of this first period originated among the women's organizations, and the women's organizations have for a few days in the dormitory and on the beautiful school grounds. There are now 150 babies in the dormitory, and the women are interested in various subjects of interest to women which will include the garden and the flowers.

The school program of four days is arranged, and while the sessions open on Tuesday, August 6, if it is more convenient guests may arrive the evening of August 9, but again, if more convenient, it may be made to start the next morning.

The school dormitories afford comfortable living quarters, meant to accommodate the children in their Board and room will be furnished for $150 per day. It will be necessary to bring towels, soap and toilet articles, and a pocket knife.

Besides being a filthy article, the use of the "pacifier" pollutes the natural growth of the mouth by causing the accumulation of the upper jaw, which leads to irregular and protruding teeth.

It is a well-known fact that the disease germs into the child's body.
